

Greetings students,

We would like to welcome you to your English Language Arts classes for the 2024-2025 school year, and look forward to seeing you all in the classroom in August! In the meantime, the following are the required summer reading novels for this year. Please be sure you come to the first day of school having already read your novel, we will be using that selection for all of our initial lessons during the first few weeks of school.

Be sure to read the correct novel!
